

Dan, fished this weekend in the area you suggested while using your GPS numbers. We were going to head to Oli 1 and 2, but started out at Slot Narrows 2 which was on the way to your Oli numbers. (Launched from Bay Port) Nothing on meat, but they were hammering Hot-n-tots Blue/Silver and Purple/Yellow. Really taking them hard too, several boards went under with the strike.

Continued on course, but water depth went up to 10' and no fish. We eased in towards the islands a little till we hit 11' and were back in the fish.

Would have limited, but getting low on gas and wife had to work Monday night. Ended up with 17 nice walleyes, all 17-22" and THICK! Plus 2 cats, a big smallmouth and lost something big which snapped everything off. I figure a pike. But, it was a big one.

Funny thing is, once we got out there, I realized that is very close to the very same areas I used to perch fish with my Grandpa when I was just a tike.

Not many walleye back then, or at least he never really fished for them, but I think he would have had a smile on his face, knowing we're still putting fish in the box from the same area. He would have turned 100 on Saturday.

Once again your waypoints made for a great day, and now I'm getting a bunch of friends wanting to go with me, LOL. Had one good friend who really needed a day of fishing with me Monday, and he had a riot.
